

Councils to get exceptional financial support to balance books

This follows the confirmation of £78 billion for councils through the settlement, helping them restore public services for communities and tackle deprivation.