

Crackdown on rogue traders selling vapes to children

The government will publish a call for evidence to seek expert views on introducing new rules for retailers selling tobacco, vapes and nicotine products