

Dangerous sexual predator has sentence increased following intervention by Solicitor General

A dangerous predator who encouraged another man to rape and sexually assault a baby has had his sentence increased after the Solicitor General intervened.