

Dangers of operating before a licence is granted

The company was found to have in effect already started operating HGVs, despite director Ian Newman's assurance in August 2021 that it would not do so in advance of authority being granted.