

Defence personnel support NHS blood donation campaign to save lives

Defence Medical Services have joined forces with the NHS in a national campaign to boost blood donation and help save lives.