

Director bans for husband-and-wife after furniture company took payments from customers for goods they never received

The company went into liquidation owing customers at least £97,000