

Dmitry Medvedev sends greetings to Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orban on Hungarian national holiday, St Stephen's Day

The message reads, in part:

“The friendly and partner relations between Russia and Hungary are developing steadily. I am confident that further intensification of the multifaceted interaction in the trade, economic and investment spheres, joint projects in the energy sector, industry and high technology fully meet the interests of both our countries.”