

Environment Agency calls on builders to follow duty of care

Construction firms urged to take responsibility for their waste to limit disruption to the environment.