

Environment Agency consults on Drax carbon capture plans

The Environment Agency is encouraging the local community to attend community events to give their views.