

Environment Agency launches clean-up operation at Hoad's Wood

Waste management experts drive first batches of harmful material away from nationally significant nature site