

Pop-up campsites need to check their flood risk say Environment Agency

Farmers and landowners setting up temporary campsites for the summer holidays are being urged to have a flood plan in place to keep campers safe.

Clean Up, Green Up and Level Up: how to build a future city

Sir James Bevan, Chief Executive at the Environment Agency, speaks at the launch of the EA's latest 'State of the Environment', hosted by Global Action Plan

Environmental inequality must not be ignored

Sir James Bevan discusses need to address environmental inequalities as part of the "levelling up" agenda

Guidance published on new carbon capture technologies

The new guidance outlines recommended techniques for carbon capture and supports the Government's aim for the UK to become carbon net zero.

Sophie set for momentous climate change voyage

An Environment Agency employee from Brighton is embarking on a once in a lifetime sailing voyage to highlight the issues of plastic pollution and climate change.