

Environment Agency rules out chemical pollution as likely cause of Teesside crab deaths

The Environment Agency has ruled out chemical pollution as a likely cause of the deaths of thousands of crabs and lobsters that have been washed ashore along the Teesside and North Yorkshire coast

Community flood hub reopens in York

A flood hub has reopened to the community in York to help update residents on progress of flood defence work in the city.

Oil and gas consultation in East Yorkshire

Rathlin Energy (UK) Limited applies to Environment Agency for permission to put exploratory oil and gas drill site at West Newton into commercial production.

Northern creek network at Lower Otter site nearly complete

Work to create creeks to the northern end of the Lower Otter Restoration Project site is now largely complete.

Lendal Arch reopens following flood defence works

A major river route in York city centre has reopened following the completion of flood defence works by the Environment Agency.