

Amphibious vehicle helping to tackle flooding in Essex

The Environment Agency has been trialling a new piece of equipment in Essex to help reduce flood risk to homes and businesses.

Skinningrove flood warning sirens put to the test

The flood warning sirens have sounded as part of a test to ensure they are working effectively and to help communities be prepared for flooding this winter.

Banks must seize opportunities of climate crisis, says EA Chief

Speaking at an event hosted by the Association of Foreign Banks, Sir James Bevan warned that banks which failed to divest from coal and oil would be left behind.

What next after COP? Fund the future or face the fire

Speech by Sir James Bevan, Chief Executive of the Environment Agency, to the Association of Foreign Banks, 16 November 2021

Flavouring company polluted Suffolk river

Cleaning chemicals spilled into a brook on the Suffolk/Cambridgeshire border after a Haverhill business failed to take reasonable care of its operations.