

The role of women in managing climate change

Chair of the Environment Agency, Emma Howard Boyd, speaks at The Energy Law Institute's Annual Clifford Chance Lecture

Flood-risk reduced for South Ferriby

Risk reduced for 150 properties, 3,000 hectares, and vital infrastructure.

Environment Agency encourages Sikh community to reduce plastic waste

Sikh festivals are at the heart of a diversity project encouraging sustainable behaviour changes during faith-based celebrations.

Thames Barrier closed for 200th time

Barrier being closed to protect London from a high tide as a result of low pressure and northerly winds coinciding with spring tides

New report: regulation helping protect against climate change

High rate of regulatory performance in England is helping fight climate change impacts, but more must be done to secure a healthy environment, says

EA report