

Edinburgh undergraduate reaches finals of Beef Student of the Year

A student from the Edinburgh Campus of SRUC studying a BSc in Agriculture is amongst four finalists in the prestigious Beef Shorthorn Society – Beef Student of the Year award.

SRUC Edinburgh student reaches finals of Beef Student of the Year

A student from the Edinburgh Campus of SRUC studying a BSc in Agriculture is amongst four finalists in the prestigious Beef Shorthorn Society – Beef Student of the Year award.

Elmwood allotment club springs into action!

The allotment club at SRUC's Elmwood Campus is springing into action – by celebrating it's third year.

GeoSciML data standard becomes official

On 15 March 2017 the Open Geospatial Consortium (OGC®) announced that GeoSciML was approved and published with full documentation as an OGC Standard. The OGC GeoSciML Standard defines a model and the encoding for geological features commonly described and portrayed in geological maps, cross sections, geological reports and databases.

School pupils enjoy a “Taste of their Future” at Barony

Over 50 school pupils enjoyed the opportunity to try out different practical tasks at the “Taste of Your Future” event that was held at SRUC’s Barony Campus.