

Students at top of their game for St Andrew's Day

Pheasant on the menu during national celebration.

Here's looking at ewe

Sheep are able to distinguish each other's facial expressions, a new study has revealed.

Learn to cut it in the forestry industry

Professor Wayne Powell, Principal and Chief Executive of SRUC, welcomed Rural Affairs Secretary Fergus Ewing to the Barony campus recently to announce a new forestry apprenticeship scheme.

Whale Detectives make strong case for award

The team at the Scottish Marine Animal Stranding Scheme (SMASS) will tomorrow learn whether their 'Whale Detectives' initiative is among the winners at this year's Nature of Scotland awards.

Wading birds in deep trouble

An urgent call for volunteers has been issued to help tackle the mass decline of wading birds in Scotland.