

First uncrewed mine countermeasures vessel delivered to UK Royal Navy, supporting British jobs and boosting British security

British defence jobs have been boosted and British sailors will be better protected following delivery of the first end-to-end autonomous UK mine hunting vessel, known as 'Ariadne', which will boost as Royal Navy capabilities.