

Flat owners to get new rights to faster, more reliable broadband under government plans

Flat owners in England and Wales could get better access to fast, reliable broadband under new proposals set out in a government consultation.