

Folkestone business wins US contract through $475,000 UK Export Finance deal

UKEF announces its support for British engineering firm Dyrhoff, enabling the company to supply key components for a large-scale water management project in the United States.