

Former Manchester businessman banned after ignoring bankruptcy restrictions to act as company director for two years

Eight-year ban for businessman who disregarded bankruptcy order to act as company director