

Fraudsters face tougher action as Government gains new powers to tackle benefit fraud

Benefit cheats, fraudsters and debtors who can afford to repay but refuse will have money taken directly from their bank accounts or lose their driver's licence under tough new laws approved today.