

Free AI training for all, as government and industry programme expands to provide 10 million workers with key AI skills by 2030

Every adult in the UK is eligible to take free, newly benchmarked courses to gain practical AI skills for work – as the joint government and industry programme sees a major expansion to upskill 10 million workers.