

From grounds maintenance to nature recovery: Ground Control's journey to large scale woodland creation

Ground Control's Wildfell project in Essex combines woodland creation and habitat banking across 116 hectares, testing funding routes for nature recovery.