

G7 nations agree first-ever joint approach to protecting children online and drive safe AI growth that delivers for all

G7 Digital Ministers have agreed a common approach to shielding children and young people from harm online for the first time.