

Goonhilly to boost deep space communications capacity

Goonhilly will provide deep space communications services to the UK Space Agency and international partners from Cornwall, under a new contract.