

Government acts to eradicate modern slavery from NHS

Proposed new measures would legally require public bodies procuring goods and services for the NHS to both identify and mitigate risks of modern slavery.