

Government apologises for historic forced adoption practices

Apology comes with £4 million package of support which includes easier access to adoption records