

Government commitment to deliver for rural communities

The Future of Rural England report sets out how to ensure government policy delivers for rural communities.