

Government extends Race Equality Engagement Group to build on first year of progress

The Race Equality Engagement Group (REEG) publishes its first report after a year of progress as the government extends REEG's term until the end of Parliament.