

Government investment for mentoring, funding access and skills development to spark tech innovation outside capital

Tech entrepreneurs outside London will get support to grow their businesses, as the government launches a £1 million programme which is set to ignite innovation and bolster growth beyond the capital.