

Government launches 'Back British' industry call to action to boost UK jobs, businesses, and skills

New measures will look to ensure that UK defence investment – even with overseas companies – benefits British business, British jobs and British skills