

Government pays tribute to Nuclear Test Veterans as UK marks 70th anniversary of first weapons test

Government to host a commemorative event, recognising the contribution veterans of nuclear tests have made to Britain's security over seven decades