

Government publishes coronavirus (COVID-19) R value and growth rates

The government has today (Friday 19 June) published UK wide and regional growth rates for England for the first time, alongside R values.