

Government steps up action to tackle illegal deforestation

New rules will ensure everyday products sold in the UK including coffee and cocoa do not contribute to illegal deforestation around the world