

Government takes action to protect bees from pesticides

Government announces new guidance to protect pollinators such as bees