

Government teams up with experts to supercharge women's sport by the 2035 FIFA Women's World Cup

Government to be guided by industry experts and academics including UK Sport and Sport England to break down barriers and create opportunities for women in sport.