

Government to create new lab to keep UK in the fast lane on AI breakthroughs

A new UK AI research lab will be created to unlock breakthroughs which could transform healthcare, transport, science and everyday technology.