

Government to transform Mental Health care with new strategy

New Mental Health strategy will transform care in England and drive shift from crisis intervention to preventative care.