

Government turning the tide for young people in the Midlands with jobs backing from Severn Trent

Young people across the East and West Midlands will have more work opportunities as Severn Trent becomes the latest backer of a government drive to tackle youth unemployment, pledging 400 roles in the water industry.