

Government's Sovereign AI invests in British-founded AI company redefining how medicines are designed

Isomorphic Labs – a company using frontier AI for drug design and development – is the latest to receive investment from Sovereign AI.