

Graves of Missing World War 1 Soldiers Identified in Belgium

More than a century after their deaths, the previously unmarked graves of Second Lieutenant William Knight and Private John Walton have finally been identified and marked.