

Graves of three previously unknown World War 1 soldiers identified in Belgium

Soldiers from Edinburgh, London and Stratford who were killed in Belgium now have headstones bearing their names, and rededication ceremonies were held today with their families present to honour their memory.