

Great British Grid to speed up connections and cut bills

Families and businesses across the country will benefit from faster grid connections.