Green Party react to Conservative plans to scrap petrol and diesel vehicle sale cut off

16 December 2025 / 16 December 2025 by Green Party

Reacting to news that Kemi Badenoch's Conservatives would scrap the 2030 cutoff date for the sale of petrol and diesel vehicles, Green MP Siân Berry said:

"This proposal from the Conservatives would set the car industry backwards, creating turmoil right when it needs continued certainty from Government that we want a better future than communities plagued by air pollution, and one where lower carbon industries matter.

"The Green Party is fully committed to a fair transition to a cleaner, greener economy, and Labour must not be pushed into backsliding by this move, driven as it is by desperate fossil fuel lobbying."

Adblock test (Why?)
