

Green projects given support to attract private sector investment

New investment approach announced to involve private sector in environmental projects, helping to tackle climate change and restore nature.