

Greens respond to sacking of Reform housing spokesperson

Green MP Sian Berry said:

“It is absolutely right that Simon Dudley has been sacked following his truly disgusting comments on Grenfell.

“It was deregulation and the cutting of red tape that was ultimately responsible for the 72 deaths at Grenfell, so it is beyond alarming that Reform wants to drag us back to that.

“Nigel Farage should heed the outrage and pledge his party will not water down the key building safety regulations that are still needed in high-rises across the country.”
