

Haulier faces licence revocation after director admitted tachograph fraud

A Somerset haulage operator has had its licence revoked, subject to a period of grace, after the Traffic Commissioner found that its director and transport manager repeatedly falsified drivers' hours records by using another...