

Historic protections for renters in action across England

The most historic changes to private renting in England now give 11 million tenants landmark new rights and protections that will transform their experiences.