

Holnicote Estate combines management strategies to control local deer and grey squirrel populations

Read how Holnicote Estate has combined different management strategies to optimise tree protection across 600 hectares of diverse woodland.