

Home Office smashes targets with mass surge in migrant removals

Nearly 19,000 foreign criminals and people with no right to be in the UK have now been removed since the government took office.